THURSDAY, OCT. 19, 1905

We publish this week the announcement of Mr. J. R. Rutledge Wharton who is the Republican candidate for sheriff at the election November 7th next. Mr. Wharton has only a short time in which to make his canvass but either he or some of his deputies expect to get around among the voters to make their wants known. Mr. Wharton is thoroughly capable of making the county a good officer should he be elected and he goes in the contest with a determination to win. He has so far named two of his deputies, Mr. Rocker Filletteau and Mr. C. W. Oeder both of whom are good men and have a strong following. Another deputy from the North end of the county will be selected.

According to the press dispatches there has been much excitement at Middleboro recently over the fact that Frank Ball who assassinated a man in his barber shop there last week is surrounded by his friends and is defying arrest. The Sheriff of Bell county became panic stricken and telegraphed the Governor for troops, which the Governor refused to send without further information. The latest from the scene is that Ball is in Virginia and will probably arrange to give himself up.

The election in Louisville between the Fusion ticket and the administration forces promises to be exceedingly warm. The campaign which is being waged now is arousing everybody to take sides. Even the ministers have taken a hand and are preaching in favor of the Fusion side which is advocating reform and law and order.

Don't Borrow Trouble!
It is a bad habit to borrow anything, but the worst thing you can possibly borrow is trouble. When sick, sore, heavy, weary and worn-out by the pains and poisons of dyspepsia, biliousness, bristly disease, and similar internal disorders, don't sit down and brood over your symptoms, but try for relief to Electric Bitters. Here you will find sure and permanent forgetfulness of all your troubles, and your body will not be burdened by a load of debt disease. At Haydon's pharmacy, price 50c; guaranteed.

Tatham Springs
We are glad to report Mr. Elisha White very much improved at this writing. Mrs. Robert Hardin was called to the bedside of her mother Mrs. Chessier, who is very sick. Mrs. B. F. Jenkins and four children, of Illinois, are visiting relatives here. Mrs. Leah Hobbs and daughter Mary, of Louisville, are visiting relatives in this community. Misses Ora Pinkston and Ethel Gray visited at the home of Mrs. (Marcell) Pinkston and attended the protracted meeting here.

HAVE YOU HEARD?

THAT I pay the highest market price for your eggs and poultry. My prices on hides are always at the top. I handle nothing but strictly high grade Coal. My Coal is free from dust and slack. You can get a load from me anytime you come. I guarantee satisfaction every time. I want all the fat Turkeys you have to sell. I will pay you the top of the market for them. You can't do better anywhere if you try.

M. H. JONES.

Mrs. Edna Johnson and Grifley have been the guests of Mrs. Isaac Johnson the past two weeks. Rev. Hatchett and wife Dr. Hatchett and wife who have been at the bedside of their brother, George Hatchett, have returned home. The brother died Wednesday, Oct. 11. They have the sympathy of this entire community in their sad bereavement.

Mr. Frank Kays and Miss Edna Dennis were married at the home of the bride Oct. 11. Rev. Hatchett officiating. Mr. Charlie Ruby and Miss Mattie Gordon were married at the home of the bride Oct. 8. Rev. Summers officiating. Mr. Thomas Gillis and Miss Lola Royalty were married at the home of Rev. Hatchett, Oct. 8. Mr. Ed Kays and Miss Rose Givens ran away match week to Springfield Wednesday, Oct. 11, and were married in the County Clerks office. We extend our congratulations to the happy couple.

Rumor reports a wedding in the near future. Mrs. Espie Goff and two little daughters, Edna and Ray, of Lawrenceburg, who have been visiting in this community have returned home.

The dogs have made another raid on Mr. J. S. Royalty's sheep butchering up several and have been sent to the slaughter house. Do! Sell their sheep, presume, and let the dogs go. Misses Pearl and Emma Peavler, Nellie Nell and Messrs. Oscar Peavler, Lord Adkinson, of Corinthsville, and George Dean of Hillsboro, were the pleasant guests of Misses Claudia, Maude and Annie Royalty Saturday night and Sunday.

Margie, the little daughter of Mr. Ivan Cary burned her foot very badly by running against a hot iron. Mr. Elisha White sold a mule colt to Mr. Tom Brown for $50. Protracted meeting began at Fairview church Sunday, Oct. 15.

Mr. John Dennis sold his farm to Richard Carey. We will be very sorry to have Mr. Dennis leave us but hope our loss will be his gain. Isaac Durr and family, of Illinois, who have been visiting in this community have returned home.

The protracted meeting closed at this place Friday morning. There were seven baptisms Friday at 10 o'clock, 3 added to the church by letter. Rev. Summers was assisted by Rev. Parson, of East Texas, who was not afraid to preach the truth. We feel that we have had a glorious meeting which leaves the church greatly revived and we earnestly pray that everyone will try to keep building the church up in the future and try to do as Bro. Parson has insisted on them doing. HYACINTH.

Protracted Meeting will have no change
No matter what is elected. Foley's Honey and Cat will remain the people's favorite remedy for coughs, colds and incipient consumption. It cures colds quickly and prevents pneumonia. A. J. Neuhum, Batesville, Ind., writes: "I suffered for three months with a severe cold. A druggist prepared me some medicine and a physician prescribed for me, yet I did not improve. Then I got Foley's Honey and Cat and eight days cured me." Sold by The Red Cross Drug Store.

Scroggsville

There is certainly no prouder, happier being on this great American continent than the industrious farmer. As he sows forth these bright Autumn daisies, and beholds the richness of his labor. How thankful he must feel, when he visits his gray and old and finds an ample supply of grain stored away for future use, and then he looks into his tobacco barn and there he sees the reward of more of his labor. And again he looks forth and there is a great quantity of corn to be gathered in, wagonloads of pumpkins lying on the ground, and Oh, so many things that his heart is almost running over with joy, and when old winter puts on her white mantle he gathers his family around the bright and happy fireside, free from care, while those in towns and cities have to keep moving, ever moving on.

Mrs. Enoch Foster spent last week with his sister Mrs. Jas. Burges. Mrs. Perry and son, Geibel, of Owensboro still remain the guests of her brother, M. S. Gaits, of this place.

The preachers holding the revival services at Williamsburg were entertained by Mr. N. Henderson and wife on Saturday and Mr. J. T. Reynolds and wife on Tuesday.

Mrs. Susan M. and Mattie Baker and Pearl Snodgrass visited at Mrs. John Nicholson's on last week. H. T. Scruggs traded to J. G. Keeling a milch cow for two yearling heifers.

Mr. Erastus Derringer and wife visited the latter's sister Mrs. Geo. Prather Sunday night.

PUBLIC SALE

Of the Residence of Sidney Green Deceased.

We will on SATURDAY, OCT. 28th, 1905, at 2 o'clock p. m. offer for sale to the highest bidder the beautiful new 10 room residence located on South side of East Main street in the town of Springfield, Ky.

This is one of the most desirable homes in Springfield being new and up to date in every respect. Mr. Green having had it built under his own supervision and using nothing but the very best material that money could buy. This house has bath rooms both on first and second floors, electric lights all over the house, a splendid cellar, large front and back porches, 6 large closets and china cabinet, stable, carriage house, smoke house, coal house and in fact everything necessary for comfort and convenience.

Enclosed with new iron fence, has concrete walk in front and around house, yard nicely set in bluegrass, and nice thrifty shade trees planted and growing. This is a beautiful location near graded school and a place that is complete in every respect.

At same time and place we will offer for sale the lot adjoining this property fronting on Main street 60 feet and running back to the branch about 225 feet.

We will also sell a lot or house hold furniture.

The sale will take place at the house. Terms made known on day of sale. For further information call on or address: C. A. Green & J. C. McElroy Administrators Sidney Green.

A Vital Question.

The Midway Clipper says the "cook question" bids fair to find a solution in that community as a Cooking School is to be opened there and a large number of the house-keepers are going to take lessons in this important art, so that they will be independent of the black mistress of the kitchen who is getting more refractory

INDIGESTION'S RECORD

"The best remedy I ever procured for my indigestion, malarial, is Green's August Flower. I have used several other physicians who prescribe irregularly."

Indigestion is making an awful record as a cause of sudden death. It is being heart-failure in its ghastly harvest. You need in the present day of apparently healthy and even robust men being suddenly attacked with acute indigestion after enjoying a hearty meal, and of their dying in many cases before a physician could be called in.

It should be a warning to you who suffer with regular or periodical attacks of indigestion. If you suffer from indigestion, Green's August Flower has taken a small dose of Green's August Flower before or after their meals they would not have fallen a prey to such sudden seizures. Green's August Flower prevents indigestion by creating good digestion. It also regulates the liver, purifies the blood and tones up the entire system in a natural way. Two sizes, 25c and 50c. All druggists. For sale at Haydon's Pharmacy

Democratic Candidate.

The following gentlemen were declared the nominees of their party for the respective county offices at the Democratic primary held in Washington county August 6th, 1904. They are to be voted for at the regular election November 1905:

For County Judge—B. L. Litsay For Co. Attorney—T. S. Mayes County Clerk—W. F. Booker Representative—W. D. Claybroke or Sheriff—J. S. Osbourne Supt. of Schools—J. W. Bush For Jailor—Geo. D. Catlett For Assessor—T. P. O'Bryan, W. T. Mitchell, Deputy. For Coroner—J. M. Montgomery

WHAT SHE PLAYED.

The Last Music That Theodore Thomas Heard on Earth. Daring the illness of Theodore Thomas, although he was not at any time unconscious or delirious, he hardly noticed the members of his family as they came and went at the bedside. But one morning he seemed to be better.

He made little jokes with the doctors and his sons and talked about his White Mountain home. At 12 o'clock he seemed tired. The sister of his autobiography says that he sang into a dreamy state, and then rushed himself to say to his wife in a lingering, ecstatic voice:

"I have had a beautiful vision—a beautiful vision!" Then he drifted off to silence. His wife thought he was tired and went downstairs to leave him to rest. With the purpose of leaving him to rest, he had given her a chance of bells, to be used in summoning the family to meals, and because of his illness had never been rung. The house, now, because he seemed so much better, she played on them a little. The bell that came into his head.

"Do you know what you have played?" asked one of the family. "Tap—the bell that is sounded over the graves of dead soldiers."

She rushed back to the bells and played the call engraved on a metal plate above them. Afterward she found that this was terrible, the soldier's signal to rise.

So it had chanced that the last music Theodore Thomas heard on earth had been symbolic of death and the resurrection—YOUTH'S COMPANION.

As a Clincher.

"I'm not so particular about speed, but I must have a gentle horse," replied Mr. Green. "My wife wants to drive, you see. Will you warrant this horse to be safe?"

"Certainly," said the dealer reassuringly. "He's a regular lively horse." "You are sure he is not afraid of anything?" asked Mr. Green anxiously and for the tenth time. The dealer assumed an air of reflection.

"Well, there is one thing that he has always appeared to be afraid of ever since I got him," he admitted conscientiously. "It seems as if he's scared to death for fear some one might say 'Whoa' and he not hear it!"

The Separation.

Mrs. Grogan-Keegan and her wife had a fierce scrap. Mrs. Hogan-Keegan said she was the best of wives. Mrs. Grogan-Keegan said she was the best of wives. Mrs. Grogan-Keegan said she was the best of wives.

Paying the Way.

"Has Harold asked your father to give you a car?" "He told father last night that he had made $5,000 in a real estate deal, so I suppose he's asking him to installment plan."—Milwaukee Journal.

No man is mutilated to the art of life, till he has been well tempted—George Eliot.

Journalists as Bullfighters.

The scribbling cricketer is being outchased by Bullfight. A bullfight is being organized at the Amphitheatre, in the whole body of matadors, picadors and banderillas will be selected from the staff of the Herald, the Imperial and other papers, says the London Chronicle. Some vivid and picturesque copy will no doubt result from this novel form of corral. It is to be regretted, however, that the impressions of the chief actors in the performance, the bulls, cannot be given to the public.

Passing of the Paris Black Cat.

Soon the Chat Noir will disappear from the memories of Paris, at least in its old form. A bullfight is being organized at the Amphitheatre, in the whole body of matadors, picadors and banderillas will be selected from the staff of the Herald, the Imperial and other papers, says the London Chronicle. Some vivid and picturesque copy will no doubt result from this novel form of corral. It is to be regretted, however, that the impressions of the chief actors in the performance, the bulls, cannot be given to the public.

Attention Horsemen.

I desire to notify all those who have colts or horses to break or train that I am prepared to handle them. The best of attention given while in my hands.

Horses Trained to Saddle and Harness.

I will have the Pair Grounds track in good condition for handling horses.

Consumptives Made Comfortable

Incipient consumption is cured by Foley's Honey and Tar, but we do not hold out false hopes to consump-tives by claiming that it will cure this dread disease in the advanced stages; but if the lungs are not too far gone Foley's Honey and Tar will effect a cure, as it stops the racking cough and soothes the inflamed air passages giving them a chance to heal, and even in the advanced stage it always gives comfort and relief. A. A. Herre, of Finch Ark., writes: "Foley's Honey and Tar is the best preparation for coughs and lung trouble. I know that it has cured consumption in the first stages." Sold county for Polk Williams on the 14th, as being a good all round sale. Danville court Monday as rather a dull day and not much stock on the market.

The marriage of Miss Ruby Lampton to Mr. Hirsch Smith is announced for the 29th inst., to take place at the home of her grandfather, Mr. Dinwiddie, at Litchfield. The bride-elect is one of Springfield's most deserving girls and has a host of friends here in her home town.
She is a daughter of Dr. J. H.
Lampton.

Mr. J. H. McClure and family have moved to the house formerly occupied by Sam Derringer, and owned by Miss Fannie Wall.
Mr. Logan Walker will move into the house vacated by Dr.
McClure. Mrs. Nancy E. Walker has purchased the house on

Grundy Avenue built by Logan Walker, and will move into it next week.

Rev. T. D. Latimer closed a very successful revival meeting at the Pleasant Grove church last Sunday. There were seventeen additions to the church and the membership was spiritually strengthened.

Joseph D. Land and Mrs. Eliabeth Mann who were passing through here on their way to Ballitt county stopped off and were married in the county clerk's office yesterday. Rev. Lyons of the Methodist church performed the ceremony.

Dan Polin who was sent to the Insane Asylum some weeks ago suffering from mental trouble has returned perfectly restored to his right mind. A jury in the county court passed on his case last week and pronounced him restored.

STRAYED.—On my place about two months ago, a black sow weighing about 200 pounds.
Owner can have same by proving property, paying for advertisement and keep and what corn she has destroyed.
J. T. PRATHER.

STRAYED.—From my place near Valley Hill one day last week a bay mare 2 years old, heavy build. Any information leading to her recovery will be rewarded by
JEROME WOHLER
Valley Hill, Ky.

Nannie Leachman Duncan, eleven months old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Will Duncan, died at nine o'clock Sunday evening.
She was a delicate child, and had been sick the greater part of her short life. The funeral service was conducted at the Pleasant Grove church by Rev.
T. D. Latimer and the remains were laid to rest in the cemetery adjacent to the church.

Among the sales of Washington county farms during the past week we note the following: C. W. Stallings sold to W. C. Hamilton his farm near Springfield containing 26 acres for $8,400. John Walls sold his farm in the Pleasant Grove neighborhood to John Dennis at $33 per acre. T. J.
Trent 130 acres to John Walls at $50 per acre. Mr. Joe Keeling of this county bought a farm near Fairfield paying $5,000 for it.

William Whitfield and Mrs.
Mary J. Nally were granted marriage license by County Clerk Booker yesterday,
but were unable to find a magistrate to perform the ceremony so they went over to Lebanon to have the knot tied. They could not agree on a minister to perform the ceremony.

News of the death of Mrs.
Emily Wortham (nee Myer), of Honey Grove, Texas, was received by relatives here Tuesday. She was the daughter of Mrs. Fannie Myer who visited Mrs. F. M. Martin this summer, and a niece of Mrs. Ardis Brown.
Two years ago Mrs. Wortham brought the remains of her husband and child to Danville for burial. The funeral occurred Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Robert Young, alias Moran, was tried before Judge Noe on Tuesday on the charge of cutting Will Hurt in a difficulty which arose over a crap game which was in progress on Saturday night. Young was held over to the grand jury. During the hearing of the evidence proof was brought out convicting several of the participants in the crap game. George Leachman and Doc Grundy were given a fine of $20 with the costs and are on the rock pile. Jack Lewis has not been caught and Charlie Bitts prove his innocence. This is almost the first conviction on record where a negro testified in convicting others in a crap game.

Rev. G. W. Lyon, who was appointed by the M. E. Conference to the pastorate of the Sobree church, has exchanged with Rev. J. C. Hoskinson, whom his family left yesterday for their new home. The reason for the exchange is that Mr. Lyon feared the health of his wife would suffer on account of the low country surrounding Sobree.
The salary paid by the Sobree church is more than that of this station, which was an inducement to Mr. Hoskinson to make the exchange. Mr. Hoskinson and wife made many friends while here, whose good wishes follow them to their new home.
Mr. Lyon preached his first sermon last Sabbath, and was well received by his congregation, the greater number of whom had previously met him, when he led the song service in a revival meeting held in the Methodist church two years ago. His family consisting of wife and daughter arrived last week.

To the Citizens of Washington County.

Having been solicited by many of my friends both Democrats and Republicans and having been nominated by the Republican party for office of Sheriff of Washington county I have accepted the trust imposed on me and promise if elected to give to the whole people faithful, efficient, non-partisan service. I earnestly request your support.

For Safe Keeping.

The Post last Friday says: To save him from threatened lynching, Charles M. Greenwell, who was indicted by the grand jury of Nelson county for the murder of Martin Roberts, was spirited away from the jail at Bardonia, Ky., last night and was this morning lodged in the Jefferson county jail for safe keeping.

Greenwell was accompanied by Jailer R. H. Hoby and R. L. Hagan, deputy marshal. He was handcuffed to the latter, and declared that he would not be released until he had been paid a ransom of $10,000.

The crime for which Greenwell is held without bond was the murder of Martin Roberts, October 2, last. Both parties were prominent farmers and the affair created great excitement.

On court day the men, who are said to have harbored a grudge against one another, met in front of the courthouse where several hundred people were gathered. According to the testimony, Greenwell walked up to Roberts and grappled with him. In the struggle that followed he took Roberts' revolver from his pocket, and throwing him down, shot him four times, causing wounds from which Roberts died twenty hours later.

Greenwell was arrested immediately after the shooting. Feeling ran high and County Judge F. E. Dougherty appointed ten men to guard the jail. This same guard was maintained until Greenwell was taken from Bardonia last night.

Early yesterday afternoon Jailer Roby learned that a move was on among Roberts' former friends to take Greenwell from the jail and hang him last night. Having no time to ask for troops he decided to bring him to Louisville.

Greenwell is a man of good appearance and about fifty-five years of age. He is married and has six children.

Desperate Deed.

Harrodsburg, Ky.—While in a drunken frenzy yesterday afternoon, Peter Vandiver, formerly a blacksmith and farmer of this county, attempted to kill his wife and son, set fire to his home, and then cut his throat from ear to ear, dying a short while afterward. The Vandiver home is about twelve miles from Harrodsburg, and yesterday afternoon Vandiver, who had been drinking, asked his wife to hand him his whisky bottle. She did so, and before taking a drink he remarked that he would not be long in this world. Then, after draining the contents of the flask, he suddenly jumped up and drawing his knife, made a dash at Mrs. Vandiver, cutting her slightly on the arm. She ran, and Vandiver immediately pulled out his pistol. Just at this moment Vandiver's son rushed into the room and grabbed the revolver. In the struggle for the weapon it was discharged, and young Vandiver was painfully, though not seriously, wounded in the hand. He and his mother then rushed from the house and succeeded in making their way to a neighbor's, where the alarm was given, and officers summoned from town. In the meantime Vandiver had cut his throat from ear to ear, had almost severed his chin, and had made a deep gash in his forehead as he fell.

When the officers arrived they found Vandiver dead, while his trousers, which were lying on the floor by him, were burned to pieces and a big hole was burned in the floor. The fire was spreading, but the officers succeeded in subduing the flames.

From all indications Vandiver had been dead but a short while before, and several years ago, while drinking, he made an attempt to kill his wife and son. He was dismissed in the court, however, on condition that he would leave the country, and for the past two years had been living in Indiana, having returned to his home several weeks ago.

Shoots His Lover.

Hense Taylor, a negro, who until lately has been employed at the Dillehay brick yard, shot and slightly wounded his sweetheart, Virrie Harlan, at her home "On the Creek" last Wednesday evening, about eleven o'clock. He escaped immediately after the shooting but was captured in Burgin by the police of that city after a chase from here. When the officers arrived at the house they were informed that Taylor had escaped in the direction of the depot, and as a freight was pulling out when they reached the station, they immediately telegraphed the police at Burgin to be on the look-out. Taylor was captured in a car. Chief Wood and officer Dunn drove to Burgin, after they were notified of the capture, and brought the fugitive to this city. His examining trial will be held the first of the week. According to the story of the woman, the shooting was unprovoked, and was an attempt to murder her. Taylor claims it was an accident. She will recover.—Danville Advocate.

Abundant Crops.

The year 1905 will have a record as an abundant crop year. The small grain crops are excellent, the yield of hay is large, while the corn crop is the largest ever known. The wheat to corn from frost in the Northwest has not passed. In Kentucky the corn crop is estimated at $75,000,000. While this country is blessed with bountiful harvests, some sections of the world are not so fortunate. Spain is said to be suffering from the worst famine in her history. It is estimated that in Andalusia alone 200,000 men are out of work and that $10,000,000 will not be sufficient to relieve the terrible situation. Immense throngs of emaciated men and women are encamped around the town while in the former fertile valley of Andalusia children are living on wild corn and the fruit of the wild cane. Riots caused by hunger are of daily occurrence. A large section of Spain is suffering the horrors of famine. In many parts there has been no rain for a year the water sources have gone dry, the crops are a total failure and people and cattle are starving. This same region was visited by a terrible famine five years ago. Crop shortages in some parts of Russia are also causing distress.

The United States has had three abundant crop years in succession, and crops for the seven or eight years have been generally good, with only short ages here and there. The farmers of this country were never in

A Big Success.

Col John B. Wathen's sale of five stock which was held at Highland View Stock Farm, Wednesday, was a great affair of the kind ever held in this county. Between 600 and 1000 persons, it is claimed, attended the sale, many of them coming from other counties, Lexington and other cities.

As it was the sales amounted to nearly $5000. The excellent brood mares, 30 head of cattle and work mules which were offered, had they been sold, would have run the proceeds to $7500.

A few of the sales was as follows: Starcrest, a yearling, $197.50; Norvin Belle, a yearling, $150; Gambian Gaura, a yearling, $200; Bigland Champion, 2 years old, $152.50; Norvin View, 3 years old, $275; Miss Allerton, 2 years old, $300; Royal Boy, 3 years old, $245; Gambolito, 3 years old, $300; Triumph, a suckling colt, $110; and Norvin Lassie, another suckling brought $125; Dexter, owned by W. L. Harrison brought $100; a sorrel filly owned by J. C. and Joe Phillips, sold for $207.50. All of these were sired by Norvin W.—Enterprise.

DON FELIPE MORGAN, BUCCANEER

By CYRUS TOWNSEND BRADY,

Author of "The Southerners," "For Love of Country," "The Grip of Honor," Etc.

COPYRIGHT, 1905, BY G. W. BILLINGHAM COMPANY

"Seniors," cried one of the officers, "Don Felipe here is dying!"

"I thank you, sir," said the officer, "but I am not dying."

Mercedes turned herself to be led to where the officer lay upon the floor. One of his comrades had taken his head on his knee. The very seconds of his life were numbered. Lovely in her grief, Mercedes knelt at his side, a great pity in her heart. The officer stepped close to him.

"I thank you, sir," said the officer, "but I am not dying."

"Don Felipe! He and you saved me, but at the expense of your lives. Would God you could have been spared!"

"No," gasped the dying man. "I love you. I watched thee. I heard thee call upon my name. Thou wert not for me, and so I die willingly. He is a noble gentleman. Would he might have been spared!"

The man trembled with the violent effort it cost him to speak. He gasped faintly and strove to smile. By an impulse for which she was ever afterwards grateful she bent her head, slipped her arm around his neck, lifted him up and kissed him. In spite of death agony at that earnest he smiled up at her.

"Now," he murmured, "I die happy—content. You kissed me—Mercedes!"

"He is dead," said the officer.

"God rest his soul, a gallant gentleman," said the officer, taking off his hat, and his example was followed by every one in the room.

"And Captain Alvarado!" said Mercedes, rising to her feet and turning to the other figure.

"Seniors," answered another of the officers, "the lives, the lives!"

A little shudder crept through the figure of the prostrate captain, who had only been knocked senseless by the force of the blow and was otherwise unhurt.

"His eyes are open! Water, quick!" With skilled fingers he began to practice the cavalier art of the life of Alvarado's doublet and gave him water, then a little wine. As the young captain returned to consciousness he saw more the officers crowded around him, the victory in the center, Mercedes on her knees again.

"Mercedes," whispered the young captain, "alive, unharmed?"

"Yes," answered Mercedes brokenly, "thanks to God and thee."

"And De Tobar," generously asserted Alvarado. "Where is he?"

"Dead."

"Oh, leave De Tobar! And the city?"

"Is ours."

"And Morgan?"

"Here in my hands," said the victory sterner.

"Thank God, thank God! And now, your excellency, my promise. I thought as I was stricken down there would be no need for you to—"

"Thou hast earned life, Alvarado, not death, and thou shalt have it."

"Seniors," said Alvarado, whose faintness was passing from him, "break my pledged word to the victory and Don Felipe de Tobar. I love this lady and was false to my charge. Don Alvarado promised me death for punishment, and I crave it. I can not live without—"

"And did he tell thee why he broke his word?" asked Mercedes, taking his hands in her own and looking up at her father. "It was my fault, I made him. In despair I strove to throw myself over the cliff on yonder mountain, and he caught me in his arms. With me in his arms, which of his words, my lords," she said, throwing back her head with superb pride, "would not have done the same? Don Felipe de Tobar is dead. He is a gallant gentleman, but I loved him not. My father, you will not part us now?"

"No," said the old man. "I will not. I care not now what his birth or lineage, he hath shown himself a man of noble soul. You heard the words of De Tobar. It shall be so. This is the betrothal of my daughter, gentlemen. Art satisfied, captain? She is noble enough, she hath lineage and race enough, for both of you. My interest with your royal master will secure you that patent of nobility you will adorn, for bravely have you won it."

CHAPTER XXII.

THE blow that struck Alvarado down had stunned him rather than anything else, and he would not have been put out of his senses so easily had it not been for the exhaustion by the hardships of the two terrible days which he had just passed. He was, however, his hand in that of Mercedes with a flash of pleasure and pride upon his face.

It was the consciousness of having won permission to marry, a woman whom he adored and who loved him with a passion that would fain overwhelm his own, were that possible, that so quickly restored him to strength. With the realization of what he had gained there came to him such an access of vigor as amazed those who a few moments before had thought him dead or dying.

"But for these poor people who have so suffered, this my lord," he exclaimed with eager gratitude and happiness, "had been a happy day for me. Last night, sir, on the beach you found a mother. A good sister."

As if of holy church, my, rather than carry the ladies which were sacred to the town, killed herself with her own hand. She did not, praise God, before she had received permission from a brave priest, although the holy father paid for his office with his life. For Morgan killed him. Tonight I find, by the blessing of God, the favor of your excellency and the kindness of the lady's heart, a wife."

"Long life to Donna de Lara and Captain Alvarado!" cried old Agramonte, lifting up his hand. "The handsomest, the noblest, the bravest pair in New Spain! May they be the happiest! Give me leave, sir," added the veteran captain, turning to the victory. "You have done well. Say I not, gentlemen? And as for the young captain, as he is fit to stand with the best, it is meet that he should win the heart of the loveliest. His mother he has found. None may know his father."

"Let me be heard," growled a deep voice in broken Spanish from an eye. A sailor thrust himself through the crowd.

"Honor!" screamed the bound buccaneer captain, who had been a silent spectator of events since the background. "I missed you. Have you?"

The boatwain, mindful of his safety—for in the hurry and confusion of the attack any Spaniard would have cut him down before he could explain—had followed hard upon the heels of Alvarado and the Tobar when they entered the fort and had concealed himself in one of the lower rooms until he saw a convenient opportunity for disclosing himself. He had been a witness to all that had happened in the hall, and he realized that the time had now come to strike the first of the blows he had prepared against his old captain.

As soon as he appeared behind the hangings where he had remained in hiding it was evident to every one that he was a buccaneer. Swords were out in an instant.

"What's this?" cried the victory in great surprise. "Another pirate free and unbound? Seize him!"

Three or four of the men made a rush toward the old buccaneer, but with wonderful agility he avoided them and sprang to the side of Alvarado.

"Back, seniors!" he cried coolly and commandingly, facing their upturned points.

"My lord," said Alvarado, "did these gentlemen withdraw their weapons. This man is under my protection."

"Who is he?"

"He is I told you, sir, who set me free, provided Donna Mercedes with a weapon, opened the gate for us—Benjamin Horgan!"

"Thou traitor!" yelled that fierce, high voice on the outskirts of the crowd.

There was a sudden commotion. A bound with his sword raised, he rushed toward the old buccaneer, all fettered though he was, upon the sailor. He was without weapon or armor, yet he bit him savagely on the cheek.

The old buccaneer was an awful sight as he poured out a horrible torrent of curses and imprecations upon the traitor, grinding his teeth beneath his coat, flocked lips, and even the iron

THE VITAL CENTER.

No Man Stronger Than His Stomach—Let Millions Strengthen Their Digestive System.

The stomach is your vital center.

No man is stronger than his stomach.

Every organ of the body is sustained and nourished by food which is converted into nutrition in the stomach and conveyed to every part of the system in the form of blood. For this reason, when the stomach is strengthened with M. O. and is able to convert the food into nourishment, all other organs will be come well. This explains many cases of heart, liver, or kidney diseases in the cases where M. O. is used.

EXCURSIONS TO THE WEST

To the Pacific Coast—to California, Oregon, Washington—round-trip, long transit and return limits, liberal stop-over privileges.

The rate is practically on the basis of one fare for the round trip. Of course, if you wish to visit both California and Oregon or Washington, the cost is slightly more.

These reduced rates are in effect on certain dates in months of May to October, inclusive. They apply from all Eastern points via Chicago, St. Louis or Memphis gateways. The Rock Island System will take you up in either Chicago or St. Louis, or at hundreds of other Middle West points and carry you to the Coast in through Standard or Tourist Sleepers with unexcelled Dining Car service. The Rock Island also affords a choice of routes: on the "Scenic" route you can stop off in Colorado—see Salt Lake City—visit Yellowstone National Park; on the "Southern" route you can go via El Paso, thru New Mexico, then "up coast" to San Francisco and on to Portland or Seattle if desired.

In short, these Pacific Coast excursions offer an unusually good chance to see our western country in a comprehensive manner.

If you desire to go only as far as Colorado, there are excursion rates in effect to that section and return, all summer long, specially reduced June 30 to July 4, August 12 and 13, and August 30 to September 4. Extension tickets to Ogden or Salt Lake and return at low cost also.

From September 15 to October 31, 1905, one-way tourist or "colonist" tickets will be on sale to California and the Pacific Northwest—about half regular fare.

If interested, send name and address on this coupon, designating which booklet wanted and to what point you plan to go. Name probable date of start also, so we can advise definitely with respect to rates, etc.</
